

MEETING THE CLIMATE CHALLENGE: TAKING ACTION IN THE HUDSON VALLEY

A CONFERENCE FOR MUNICIPAL OFFICIALS,
BUSINESS AND COMMUNITY LEADERS AT THE
MOHONK MOUNTAIN HOUSE

Photo by Chris Bowser

Save the Date

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 2008

8:15 am - 4:30 pm

PLEASE JOIN US

The Hudson River Watershed Alliance and Mohonk Consultations are convening a full-day forum to explore current climate change policy and science and demonstrate effective local responses to climate change. Topics include:

- State-of-the-art regional and local climate change science
- Economic and social implications of climate change in the Hudson Valley
- Current federal, state and regional climate change policy

A Panel Discussion on how to respond effectively to climate change on the local level and available tools to adapt to climate change, followed by a Question/Answer period.

Keynote Address by Andrew C. Revkin,
Science Writer for The New York Times

Opening Plenary Speaker: Congressman Maurice Hinchey (invited)

Other Notable Speakers: Dr. Stephen Breyman (NYS Climate Change Office); David Church (Orange County Planning Department/Orange County Water Authority); Tim Hall (NASA/Goddard Institute for Space Studies); Paul C. Huth and Shanan Smiley (Mohonk Preserve); and David Van Luven (The Nature Conservancy)

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

Municipal Officials
Agencies - Local, State, and Federal
Community Activists
Watershed Groups
Business Professionals
Water Resource Professionals

Questions? Interested in Sponsoring this Conference?

Katy Dunlap, Coordinator of Hudson River Watershed Alliance
katy@hudsonwatershed.org 845-454-7673 x116

Full conference details will be available soon at www.hudsonwatershed.org.
$45 registration fee, includes gourmet lunch and conference materials.